

ART OVERCOMES BOUNDARIES

A film team of 4 students Kira Eggert (17), Jennifer Petersen (17), Ibrahim Khodor (17) and Leonard Diaz (16) of the Bernstorff-Gymnasium from Satrup and seniors from South Jutland start a new pilot project "ART OVERCOMES BOUNDARIES".

The students from Angeln will meet several times in the border region with seniors from South Jutland to get to know contemporary artists from both countries and their works in exhibitions in Sønderborg and Angeln. The entire project is recorded by the students as part of a documentary. The project is organized and made possible by the association KUNST FÜR ANGELN e.V.

The pilot project will start on 5 October 2022 in Sønderborg with a German / Danish art exhibition at the Sønderborg Art School under the direction of Thomas Lunau and will be part of the Roosen-Trinks Collection on the WITTKIELHOF under the direction of curator Corinna Koch and collector Ingrid Roosen-Trinks and continues in Angeln until the end of October. An extension and continuation are planned for spring 2023.
Exhibition opening: 16 April 2023.

With this new project "ART OVERCOMES BOUNDARIES" another cultural milestone is set for the expansion of the German / Danish friendship, to optimize the exchange between the generations and to expand the artistic contacts between the two countries.

Each student has his or her own reasons why he or she participates in this project.

"My grandmother also had a nice time in a shared apartment in Angeln with very socially committed people. Through this formative time, I'm particularly looking forward to this cross-generational project and the new experiences.", says Jennifer Petersen. Kira Eggert mentions another aspect: "I've not really known my grandparents myself and therefore look forward to meeting seniors who do not get to see their grandchildren often and spend time with them. "
